De Maten

Christelijke dalton basisschool

Our Christian Dalton elementary school 'De Maten' is located in the village of Den Ham. Since 2009 we are officially a Dalton school. The five core values: responsibility, autonomy, cooperation, effectiveness and reflection are the foundation of our Dalton education.

At our school we have a noteworthy good pedagogical climate, where everyone feels safe.

The school counts 192 pupils who are divided into nine separate classes. At our school, we work in a team consisting of seventeen educators, including the assistant teacher, the internal supervisor, and the school's principal.

Together we are responsible for the quality of education given at our school. We are a professional learning community and we are continuously working in project groups to improve the quality of our Dalton education.

Since 2012 we are member of Dalton International and frequently, we receive guests from within our country and abroad.

Our promise to the pupils is the following: 'Every child is unique, which includes unique Dalton education.'

We provide up-to-date education that suits the pupil and challenge them while working together with other students. Pupils become co-owner of their own development by working on their educational curriculum. They are keeping track of their own development, using a digital portfolio. The students acquire knowledge and learn skills appropriate to their growth level. This contributes to become independent and responsible members of society. Good communication with parents and students is important to us. We are conducting triangular conversations (student, parent(s), teacher(s), based on trust. With this, we work together on development of the cognitive, social, creative and motor areas.
